

Pollinator Week

June 20-26, 2016

Mizzou Botanic Garden Native Pollinator Dinner

Sunday, June 19

6 – 9 p.m.

Reynolds Alumni Center, 704 Conley Ave.

A 5 p.m. tour of the Mizzou Botanic Garden, led by MU's Charles Paxton, Chris Starbuck and Candace Galen, precedes the evening's events. Then at 6 p.m., a pollinator-inspired dinner made with locally sourced ingredients will be served as keynote speaker Gary Nabhan, an agricultural ecologist and ethnobotanist from the University of Arizona, presents on preventing food-chain collapse and investing in pollinator habitats. There will be a cash bar and live auction. Tickets are $50 per person.

For tickets or more information, call University Events at 573-882-1989 or email events@missouri.edu.

Author Reception

Wednesday, June 22

7 – 8:30 p.m.

Columbia Public Library, 100 W. Broadway

The library will host a meet and greet with Doug Tallamy, a professor of Entomology with the University of Delaware and author of "Bringing Nature Home" (Timber Press), and Roy Diblik, principal at Northwind Landscape Design Division in Wisconsin and author of "The Know Maintenance Perennial Garden" (Timber Press).

Native Pollinator Symposium

Thursday, June 23

8 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Kit Bond Life Sciences Center/Monsanto Hall

A symposium featuring a panel of nationally known pollinator experts, a native plant sale, author meet and greets and Q&A sessions. Speakers include: Doug Tallamy, Roy Diblik, Mike Arduser, Christine Nye, Candace Galen and others. The symposium is free and open to the public.
